PAUL IN A ROMAN PRISON

LESSON TEXT—Acts 16:16-40.
GOLDEN TEXT—Rejoice in the Lord always; and again I say, Rejoice.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Paul in Jail.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Paul in Prison.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—The Source of Paul's Joy.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Paul as an Evangelist.

1. Paul and Silas in Jail (vv. 16-26).
1. The occasion (vv. 16-24).

As the missionaries went out from day to day to the place of prayer they were accosted by a young woman possessed by a spirit of divination. She was owned by a syndicate of men who derived large gains from her soothsaying. Her utterances as she followed the missionaries became a great annoyance to Paul, who in the name of Jesus Christ commanded the evil spirit to come out of her. The spirit in this maid testified that these were servants of the Most High God and that they proclaimed the way of salvation. But Paul, like Jesus (Mark 5:7), would not have Satan's testimony. The evil spirit immediately obeyed Paul's command. When the demon was cast out, the supernatural power of the maid was gone, therefore the source of revenue was dried up. This so exasperated her owners that they brought Paul and Silas before the magistrates on the false charge of the changing of customs. It was not custom but their unlawful gain which was interfered with. There is always trouble when the unlawful business in which men are engaged is threatened.

2. Their behavior in jail (v. 25).

Paul and Silas prayed and sang hymns to God. It seems quite natural that they should pray under such circumstances, but to sing hymns is astonishing to all who have not come into possession of the peace of God through Christ. Even with backs lacerated and smarting, and feet fast in the stocks compelling the most painful attitude, in the dungeon darkness of the inner prison with extreme uncertainty before them, their hearts went up to God in gratitude.

3. Their deliverance (v. 26).

The Lord wrought deliverance by sending a great earthquake which opened the prison doors and loosed their bands.

II. The Conversion of the Jailer (vv. 27-34).

The jailer had small sympathy for the prisoners, for as soon as they were made secure, he went to sleep. Being suddenly aroused from slumber by the earthquake he was about to kill himself, whereupon Paul assured him that the prisoners were all safe. What he had heard of their preaching and what now he experienced caused him to come as a humble inquirer after salvation. He was convicted of sin and felt the need of the Savior. Paul clearly pointed the way to be saved, saying, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ." The word "believe" means to trust and fully obey. The proof that the jailer was saved is threefold:

1. Transformation from brutality to tenderness (v. 33).

He who a little while ago could with impunity lay on the cruel lashes is now disposed to wash their wounds.

2. Confession of Christ in baptism (v. 33).

Those who have really been convicted of sin and have experienced the saving grace of God delight to confess their faith in Him under all circumstances.

3. He set meat before them (v. 34).

4. His whole household baptized (v. 33).

When a man's family is willing to follow him, you may be sure that his conversion is genuine.

III. The Magistrates Humbled (vv. 35-40).

1. Orders to release the prisoners (vv. 35, 36.).

The earthquake brought fear upon the magistrates and thus moved them to give leave for the prisoners to go.

2. Paul's refusal to go (v. 37).

The ground of his refusal was that their rights as Roman citizens had been violated. They demanded public vindication.

3. Brought out of prison by the officers (vv. 38, 39).

Because they were Roman citizens they were released, the magistrates fearing what they had done.

4. Returned to the house of Lydia (v. 40).

Upon their public vindication they left the prison and entered the home of Lydia, and after ministering comfort to the brethren, they departed.

God Will Aid

It is my habitual practice about little things to bring them before God. I never attempt to carry any burdens myself. I roll them on God, and speak to God about them.—George Muller.

Safety

Be thou like the bird perched upon some frail thing, although he feels the branch bending beneath him, yet loudly sings, knowing full well that he has wings.—Gesparin.

SPOUT SPRING

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Plunkett, Carlyle and Frank Plunkett, of Huntington, W. Va., have been visiting Messrs. W. D. and J. H. Robertson. They will visit Washington, points in New Jersey and Ohio before returning home.

Miss Minnie Lee Robertson, of Greensboro, N. C., is the guest of Miss Margaret Robertson.

Mrs. R. W. Nowlin and daughters, Harriet and Nell, of Greensboro, N. C., left yesterday after spending several weeks with Mrs. W. D. Robertson. They will visit friends in Lynchburg before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Brinkley and son, Preston, of Petersburg, are the week-end guests of Mr. J. H. Robertson.

VERA

The big rain did lots of damage but it did a lot of good too.

The meeting at New Hope has closed. It was a fine meeting—26 additions to the church.

Mr. J. W. Harvey and family, of Lynchburg, and Mr. J. N. Woodson, of Richmond, were the guests of Mr. Thomas Harvey on Sunday.

Mrs. B. W. Morris is suffering with a broken rib.

Miss Virginia Royster, Miss Emma Guy Megginson and Mrs. J. W. Harvey were the guests of C. E. Lewis last week.

Mr. Thomas C. Harvey and family, of Detroit, Mich., have returned home after a pleasant visit to his grandfather, Thomas Harvey.

Mrs. John Crabtree, of Tazewell, is visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. Anderson.

Mrs. Eva Hayden and Betty Jane are visiting Mrs. R. W. Abbitt.

Mr. J. N. Woodson and family visited his aunt, Mrs Mary Moses, a few day ago.

Mr. Thomas Harvey continues very feeble at his home.

Beckham

We are glad to see the sunshine after so much rain. Many tobacco crops were destroyed by high water, also corn crops.

Mr. W. E. Moore is sick again we trust he may soon be out.

Mrs. E. W. Moore, of near Bent Creek, spent Sunday and Monday with her mother, Mrs. Emily Burge, who keeps quite sick, at her daughter's, Mrs. C. A. Moore. Also Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Burge, Jr., and son, of near Stapleton, were visitors in this home Sunday afternoon.

Miss Lois Martin, of near Oakville, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. H. R. Moore.

Miss Virginia Moore has returned home after spending some time with relatives at Appomattox.

Miss Nellie Cawthorn, of Appomattox, spent the week-end in the home of Mr. M. T. Martin.

Revival meeting begins at Mt. Comfort church next Sunday.

Annual Meeting

The W. C. T. U. Bi-County convention met in an all-day meeting at the Methodist church, Pamplin, Tuesday, August 21. This was a well attended interesting and enthusiastic meeting. The visitors were cordially entertained by the good women of Pamplin. A delicious dinner was served in picnic style on the church lawn.

The following resolutions were adopted:

We express our thanks to our Heavenly Father for His divine guidance and benefits through the past year—Believing that it is His work and that He has led us to victory in the past, we are resolved:

First—That we will stand firm for observance of the 18th amendment and the Volstead law.

Second—That we put principle before party and pledge ourselves to vote in the coming presidential election for the candidate whose record has proved that he will uphold the 18th amendment and enforce the Volstead act without modification.

Third—That we will ask for a prohibition enforcement officer to be stationed at Lynchburg.

Fourth—That we extend to the Pamplin Union our sincere thanks for the royal welcome given us, for the delightful entertainment and bounteous dinner.

BLIND FARMER LED BY SMALL WINDMILLS

Stationed About Land They Guide Him Around.

Hart, Mich.—Small windmills have served as eyes for Kiry McCauley, forty-one, blind farmer of Ferry township, the last three years. The windmills guide McCauley about the farm; they take him from the house to the barn or to the chickencoop; they also guide him down the sand road two miles to the village of Ferry.

McCauley lost the sight of his left eye three years ago. His right eye always had been sightless. It was then that he hit upon the plan of the windmills to guide him. The small windmills were placed at strategic points about the farm and along the highway to Ferry. The wind sets the mills in motion and from the rattle he is able to find his way.

On the infrequent quiet days when there is no wind to make the wooden vanes rattle he guides himself about the farm by means of a wire stretched from one building to another.

Repair Windmills Now.

There are no sidewalks in Ferry township to tap with a cane and there is only an occasional visitor to aid the blind man in time of need but McCauley frequently makes the two-mile trip to town and back alone. He takes the wagon trail. Windmills are placed at intersections. He can hear the rattle of the mills for several hundred feet and knows where to turn.

The windmills are being repaired now. The winter winds have damaged some and blown others down. Hunters and boys not knowing of their purposes have destroyed some. Hence the mills must be replaced before McCauley can go to town.

Although always blind in the right eye, McCauley at one time had excellent vision and was a crack shot with a rifle. He would suspend a flatiron by a string, back away as far as he could see the string, shoot the string and drop the iron. Partridges on the wing fell victims to his marksmanship.

Old Horse Helped.

In the days when the vision of McCauley's left eye was fading an old horse, Bill, aided him in making a living. A log chain was attached to the harness and by its rattle McCauley was able to find his horse. He would cut a cord of wood daily, haul it to Ferry and sell it for $2.50. About the time that McCauley lost the sight of the left eye the horse died and McCauley was confronted with new problems.

The blind man lives with his father, Daniel McCauley, eighty-two. Despite his age, the father works at clearing land, but he is growing feeble. The aged father and the blind son wonder what the future holds for them. Most of the day the son sits at the farmhouse waiting for the return of the aged father. He still hopes, despite the word of doctors, that he will be able to see again.

"Somewhere there must be a doctor who can help me," he says. If not he will have to go through life following the rattle of the windmills.

Soon Lamb Will Be Sold With Mint Sauce in It

Paris—Soon the French housekeeper will be able to buy her lamb or mutton with the mint sauce already in it and chicken already flavored with mace and thyme. In France, land of famous cooks and tasty sauces, poultry and meat are now deliciously seasoned by hypodermic injection.

The new method, discovered by Dr. A. Gaudechon, makes use of a principle of physiology and injects sauces and seasoning directly into the blood stream of chicken and other fowl. In this way the flavoring penetrates to all parts of the meat.

"Intra-sauce," is the name Doctor Gaudechon coined for the fluid he uses in this new sort of cookless cookery. He has tried the method on over 200 animals, using all kinds of poultry and sheep and pigs.

In addition to flavoring, coloring matter may be introduced in the same way to get an even hue throughout the meat, or different parts may be flavored or colored differently. Lean meats may be enriched by injection of lards or oils. For this purpose melted butter has been found the best fluid.

"I suffered a long time, before I tried Cardui," says Mrs. Lizzie Pruitt, 120 "E" St., Anderson, S. C. "I was badly run-down in health, had nervous trouble in places, and I had to go to bed.

"I got so bad off, I could not bear to have anyone walk across the floor of my room. The least little thing upset me. Sometimes I had awful headaches. I had bad pains in my back and sides, and my head and limbs would take spells of aching which almost set me wild.

"One day I saw where a woman, who had a trouble like my own, had been relieved by Cardui. I decided at once to try it. It began to help me from the very first. I took Cardui regularly, for several months, and my improvement was so remarkable my family and friends were delighted."

Try Cardui for your troubles.

School News

The Appomattox County Public white schools both High and Elementary will open at 9 a. m. on Friday, September 14, 1928. The Teacher's Meeting will be held at 10 a. m., Thursday, September 13th.

The State Compulsory Education Law as passed by the last General Assembly goes into effect this session. All able bodied children between the ages of 7 and 15 years are required to attend school under this law. All children who enter school for the first time on September 14th are required to present a birth certificate to the teacher within ten days from date of opening. Parents who have lost these certificates for their children can easily secure them free of charge from the State Bureau of Vital Statistics, Richmond, Va. This should be done before school opens.

In a later issue of this paper, a brief outline of the main provisions of the State Compulsory Attendance Law will be published. Parents are urged to read the provisions of this law.

The Local Board has set the following regulations in regard to age limits for pupils entering school this fall. For the schools of Appomattox and Pamplin or any other schools in the county where the children are extremely crowded, pupils must be near-ter their 7th birthday by September 14 before being allowed to enter. For other schools in the county, pupils must have passed their 6th birthday by September 14th before being permitted to enter.

Below is a list of white teachers appointed for Appomattox County to date:

Hixburg— Miss Vivian Clarke; Gold Hill — Lucille Dickerson; Hollywood — Vara Morris; Airy Hill—Thelma Webb; Rocks Mary McKlenney; James River—Anna Ferguson; Evergreen — Ursula Wooldridge; Martin — Virginia Woodson; Chilton — Nellie Cawthorne; Woodland — Catherine Caldwell; Petty's Fork — Olive Lewis; Wesley Chapel—Gertrude Ranson; Mount Comfort—Mamie Cullop; Mount Zion— ; Buck Hollow — Elsie Marks; Ouida O'Brien; Spout Spring—Earle Patteson, Helen Dickerson; Stonewall — Idelle Ferguson, Myrtle Smith; Vera — Mannie Inge, Evelyn O'Brien, Colyer Abbitt; Liberty Chapel—Virginia Harvey, Ella Epperly, Edith Martin; Oakville— Samuel Claybrook, Hazel Reynolds, Lillian Caldwell, Mattie Moss; Pamplin—Merle Davis, Pattie Brandon, Wanda M. Fox, Mrs. C. E. Massey, Maude Adams, Mable Dulin, Pearl Dunton, R. W. Wilkins; Appomattox—L. Crawley, Kate O'Brien, R. W. Wilkins, Mrs. Helen Welsh, Gladys VanVolkenburg, Ocie F. Jones, S. Nelson Brown, Elaine McDearmon, Mrs. Ola Furbush, Mildred Kelly, Mrs. Eleanor Scott, Nola Burkey, Cecil Morgan, Eddie Hardie, Elva Stratton, Pereeza Coleman.

Reunion

Thursday evening, August 9th a reunion of the family of John J. Scruggs was held in the hospitable home of his son-in-law, Albert Drinkard.

There was only one missing link in the circle of children, these with a number of grandchildren, nieces and nephews, one great-grand child and a great great nephew did not honor the occasion.

A most delicious six o'clock supper was served under the huge oaks in the yard in true Virginia style, the table groaning under the weight of delectable viands.

It was a joyful occasion and wit and repartee went the rounds.

In parting they sang "Faith of Our Fathers" and "Bless Be the Ties That Bind" and J. P. Scruggs, of Elkton, Va., petitioned blessings on the aged father and the assemblage and asked that when reunions here were over there might be a heavenly one where parting is no more.

Revival Closed

The Union Revival Meetings conducted by Dr. J. Ernest Thacker, Presbyterian Evangelist, and Rev. W. L. Burks, Methodist song leader, were brought to a close at Liberty Baptist Church Sunday night. In many respects, it was a remarkable series. The lectures by Mrs. Thacker and the sermons by Dr. Thacker were of high order; the three large chorus choirs under the direction of Mr. Burks rendered fine services; every committee, of which there were many, did fine work; the attendance was good throughout the meetings and our people have been informed, refreshed and revived. It is impossible, of course, to tabulate the results of such a movement but there 850 cards signed as follows: reconsecration 720, to unite with the various churches by letter 17, conversions 83. All expenses of the revival, including the salary of the song leader, were promptly met and a free-will offering amounting to $411.55 was given to Dr. Thacker. The spiritual unity and oneness of our people is seen not only by the fact that they pull together without friction but by the fact that all heard and were wonderfully edified by the same Gospel.

A great Mass Meeting will be held in Liberty Baptist Church next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock when there will be echoes of the revival in song and testimony and plans will then be formulated for conserving the results of the revival. All are cordially invited.

Richard Baldwin

It is with a sense of profound sorrow that we record the passing home of Mr. R. D. Baldwin. His health had been rapidly failing for some months and on August 14 at 8 o'clock he fell asleep in Jesus. Early in his life he became a decide of Christ and was a faithful member of Elon Baptist Church. Lovely in person, sympathetic, kind and affectionate husband and father and loyal to his friends. We cannot help but mourn the loss of one so useful. He was the oldest merchant in Pamplin and by his honesty, courtesy and fine personality had won a host of friends. Wednesday afternoon the funeral services were conducted by his pastor, W. B. Duling, at the Baptist Church in the presence of a host of sorrowful friends and relatives.

The grave was a mass of beautiful flowers which showed the love and esteem in which he was held. Besides his wife he is survived by the following children: Mrs. Humphrey Young, of Crewe, Mrs. Harry Tanner, of Lynchburg, Mrs. Carlas Calhaghas, of Washington, Lewis Baldwin, of Lynchburg, and Stanley Baldwin, of Pamplin. To these loved ones we offer our most heart-felt sympathy.

Sleep on beloved, take thy rest,
We loved thee well,
But Jesus loves thee best.—X.

Primitive Armor

Gambeson was the armor used by the ancient Egyptians. It was composed of layers of cloth and tow, or a similar material quilted on canvas or leather.

Douglas Fir

The timber of the Douglas fir is sold under various names—Douglas fir. Columbian pine and Oregon pine. The tree grows throughout the southern part of British Columbia and the sawn lumber is shipped from Pacific coast ports.

Hold-Up

Tuesday night while H. M. Marshall was alone in his store at Hixburg, two negroes entered the store made some trifling purchases and then covered him with their guns, demanded his cash. The negroes took the cash drawer containing about $10 and left in the dark. Sheriff McKinney went down yesterday to make some investigation, but could find no trace of the darkies, except it is thought they were making their way East. Strange negroes driving a red Overland car with canvas top were seen in the neighborhood and it is believed they are the criminals. Look out for the red Overland and report.

P. H. Woolridge.

This old gentlemen died at his home here Saturday in the 82nd year of his age. He had been in declining health for some months and his death was expected at most any time by his friends. Deceased was a Confederate veteran and rarely ever failed to attend the re-union of his comrades. His remains were interred at the Wright cemetery here where many friends gathered to pay respects to an honorable and highly esteemed old soldier.

Berkley T. Godsey

This young man, 24 years of age, came to his death in a hotel at Rocky Mount, N. C., Sunday night. No report from authorities there verify the rumors of foul play. A doctor reported that there were no signs of foul play. He was found by the bell boy in less than two hours after he had gone to his room dead. His remains were shipped here and interred in the family graveyard at his late home near town. He is survived by father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Godsey, and several brothers and sisters.

Back to Methuselah

A message from Madrid Spain states that a happy family of centenarians has been discovered. The mother is aged one hundred and twenty-seven and her five sons range from one hundred and eleven to one hundred and five. According to these figures the mother must have been only fifteen when her eldest son was born. It was further stated that all the sons are at work; doubtless they are the sole support of their aged mother.
